A REMARKABLE WAR DISCOVERY.
SILK CHEAPER THAN COTTON
The recent extraordinary increase in the demand for their Silk of all descriptions was a MATTER OF GREAT SURPRISE to Messrs. Karanjia & Co., themselves. They could not understand why Silk should be so much in demand in spite of somewhat increased prices owing to the difficulties caused by the War, but their Customers frankly told them that they had substituted Silk for wool and cotton even for their ordinary requirements as they FOUND SILK CHEAPER THAN COTTON, not to speak of the great difference in comfort and elegance.
To avoid disappointment it may be noted, however, that this miracle is due not so much to the disturbance of the cloth market during the War as to the UNRIVALLED EXPERIENCE AND RESOURCES of Messrs. KARANJIA & Co., Ltd.,
in silk business. The truth of this remarkable war discovery can therefore be tested ONLY AT THEIR SHOP.

COTTON

(From our Commercial Correspondent.)

June 11.

The nominal rate this morning for Fine Broach July was Rs. 692. The Marwadi bazaar opened at Rs. 694, advanced to Rs. 695 and declined to Rs. 689 owing to some profit taking. Later on the price improved to Rs. 691½ and remained at about Rs. 690 to Rs. 691½ up to 4 p.m. At Colaba the opening was easier and business was done at Rs. 685, but the rate improved to Rs. 692½, and closing prices were as under.

For ready cotton the enquiry has been very moderate.

STANDARD BAROMETER READING.

The following information is published in order that vessels in the Bombay Harbour may by comparison with a standard instrument ascertain the errors of their barometers:—

The reading of the Standard Barometer in the Colaba Observatory corrected for index error and reduced to 80 deg. F. and to the level of the tide at 8-45 a.m. Standard Time, on the 11th June, 1918, was 29.130 inches For temperature corrections applicable to mercurial barometer of ships the reading of the ship's barometer has to be increased or decreased by .013 inch for every 5 degrees according as the temperature of the attached thermometer is respectively below or above 80 deg. F. In case of the aneroid no temperature correction is needed. But for comparison at 80 deg. F. all aneroid readings should be increased by .138 inch. For correcting the ship's barometer either mercurial or aneroid for the height of the barometer cistern above the tide level in the stream at 8-45 a.m., Standard Time, the ship's barometer reading should be increased by .010 inch for every 10 feet of the height to make it comparable with the observatory barometer reading given.

FORECAST OF MONSOON RAINFALL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, June 10.

The Meteorological Department's forecast of the current season says (a) the monsoon rainfall of Upper Burma and north-east India is likely to be in excess; (b) in the other parts of India, excluding Lower Burma and south of the Peninsula, the outlook is roughly normal, though slightly perhaps on the unfavourable side; (c) rainfall of north-west India is not likely to be affected prejudicially by accumulation of snow in the Himalayas.

A WATCH REPAIRER'S SUICIDE.

The Coroner held an inquest touching the death of Ranchod Hansraj, a watch repairer, who was found lying unconscious in his room at Mugbhat on the 5th instant, and died there subsequently. The deceased was living with a woman, Yesubai, and she had asked him to have a bigger room, to which the deceased agreed. The deceased, however, did not turn up on the evening, and nothing was heard of him till he was found unconscious in his room. The death was due to opium poisoning, and the jury returned a verdict of suicide by opium.

BOY'S FATAL ADVENTURE.

The Coroner held an inquest touching the death of a nine-year-old Hindu boy, Tulsa Limbu. It was stated that a young driver, Bali Ganu, was driving his cart along Mahaluxmi Road on Monday, and got down from the cart, to get some money from a man, leaving it unattended. The deceased got into the cart and drove it for a distance, but when the cart bumped on a stone he fell down, and the wheel passing over him killed him on the spot. The jury returned a verdict of death from injuries received by his being run over by the cart which he was driving, and that it was in evidence that the deceased got into the cart in the absence of Bali Ganu, and that the latter deserved punishment.

HIGH PRICES OF SALT AND FIREWOOD

At a public meeting of the residents of Parel, Chinchpokli and other mill districts of Bombay held on Sunday under the auspices of the Social Service League at the premises of the League's Parel Branch, Mr. Jagannath Gangaram Saibu presiding, a resolution was passed requesting Government to inquire into the causes that had led to the present high price of salt, inasmuch as the poor classes were put to a great hardship and as less consumption of salt was likely to render the poor people less capable of resisting disease, and that the Government be asked to open shops in different localities particularly those inhabited by working and other poor classes of people, where salt would be sold to them at a cheap rate, provided other measures to control the price of that article failed. Another resolution asked Government to take immediate steps to make firewood available to the people at cheaper rates and to compel the owners of firewood depots to show prominently at their shops the printed rates of different kinds of firewood sanctioned by the Controller, as it was observed that the same kind of firewood was sold to different persons at different rates.

BOMBAY AMUSEMENTS.

ROYAL OPERA HOUSE.

To have a picture recalled by popular request when it was only exhibited a fortnight before is the most eloquent tribute that the public can possibly pay it. Those who saw "The White Raven" at the Royal Opera House will not be surprised, however, that it is to be put on again to-night, for it was a unique production that could easily run for a whole week. The plot—the story of a girl who rises from mining camp saloon singer to Opera House prima donna—is full of power and magnetism. And when we have Miss Ethel Barrymore at the head of a brilliant "Metro" cast we need say no more about the acting. There should be large crowds from to-night till Saturday. The management announce that Mr. E. H. DuCasse has sent the British film version of the tremendously successful London play "My Lady's Dress", with practically the original company playing, headed by Miss Gladys Cooper. It is a very long film and will have to be shown in two instalments. The first will open on June 23rd, as at present arranged, and the second on June 26th.

IMPERIAL.

This week's instalment of "The Seven Pearls" at the Imperial Cinema is the second of the series and carries a stage further the adventures of the heroine in her search for the Sultan's lost pearls, upon the recovery of which her adopted father's life depends. An unusually cold-blooded murderer whom the girl threatens to denounce, now ropes her to a balloon. A bottle of acid drips on the rope and in time the rope will be eaten through and the helpless captive will meet a speedy and terrible death. But her rescuers are in hot pursuit and when there is only the merest thread of rope left between the girl and certain death, one of the rescue party catches hold of her and the two descend in a parachute. This is only one of the thrills in this wonderful piece of cinema sensationalism, "The Seven Pearls."

PIERROT CONCERT.

On Saturday evening, "The Queries" resumed their activities with a performance in the Active Service Hut, Ormiston Road and were welcomed by a crowded audience of men of his Majesty's services, who did not fail to accord the unstinted applause which the artistes earned.

The performance, which was voted an unqualified success, was full of vim and action and was not allowed to flag for even a moment, testifying to the amount of time and energy which the party has put into rehearsals. This was most especially evidenced in the concerted numbers and dances which were rendered with a vivacity and concord seldom attained by amateurs, and Mrs. Powell is to be congratulated on the production of such an entertaining programme. Mesdames Powell and Wiggin had to respond to encores for each of their individual items, whilst they were also called back after a humorous duet in which they were associated. Mr. H. Chilton received an encore for each of his songs and his topical cartoons were cleverly done and greatly appreciated. Captain Eccles had the audience in roars of laughter with his songs and patter, whilst Mr. J. R. Moore's able accompaniments helped in no small measure towards the success of the entertainment.

The Service men will look forward keenly to the next performance of "The Queries" who will appear every fortnight in this hut with an entire change of programme.

WATER POLO.

An interesting Water Polo Match was played in the Back Bay Swimming Baths on Friday last between the Victoria Hospital and the Colaba Hospital. The teams took the water at 6-30 p.m., the Victorians defending the deep end. It was soon realised that neither teams were to have their own way with the ball. Some very pretty play was seen on both sides, and finally the Victorians succeeded in scoring from a fine shot by Watson (centre.). Half time arrived with the scores Victoria 2, Colaba Nil.

On resuming Colaba showed some dashing play which resulted in Colins potting their first goal. The Victorians later broke away and following a neat bit of combined play, Peck registered their third goal. Later Goodwin netted a fourth.

Result:—

Victoria	4
Colaba	1

Both teams are capable of doing better. The Victorians are a much improved side since their last appearance at the Beach Kennedy Baths. Undoubtedly they are fortunate to possess a good skipper in Capt. White, R.A.M.C., who is a keen player, and takes a great deal of interest in the team. This was the first appearance of Colaba in this Branch of sports and although the losers in this game more will be heard of them in the future. A good feature of the game was the absence of any foul play, and the sporting spirit displayed by both teams was very marked. There are now four or five Water Polo teams among the troops in Bombay and the Committee of the Army Y.M.C.A. Athletic Department are making plans for a Water Polo League and also an Army and Navy Water Sports.

KANARA SARASWAT ASSOCIATION.

A condolence meeting was held in the Kanara Saraswat Association Hall, Gamdevi, on Sunday under the presidency of Mr. N. S. Kowshik, president of the Association, at which resolutions were passed expressing sorrow at the loss sustained by the deaths of Lieut. K. Harihar Bhat, I.M.S., (while returning to India from one of the theatres of war), Mr. G. N. Kulkarni, proprietor of the Karnatak Printing Press, Rao Bahadur Savur Mangesh Rao, late Professor of Mental and Moral Science, Presidency College and Kanarese Translator to the Government of Madras and Messrs. Vittalrao V. Ragade, Manjunath M. Gangolli, Mangesh Anant Nadkarni, and N. N. Halcipur and Dr. Ganesh Sundar Rao. Sir Narayan Chandavarkar and Mr. K. Natarajan were among those present and the former paid a warm tribute to the great learning and simplicity and purity of life of the late Rao Bahadur Savur Mangesh Rao.

MRS. BESANT IN BOMBAY.

PUBLIC LECTURE TO-MORROW.

Under the joint auspices of the Bombay branches of the Home Rule League, a public lecture will be delivered by Mrs. Annie Besant on "The Special Congress: Our Work before and after," to-morrow, at 6-30 p.m., (S.T.), in the Morarji Goculdas Hall, Cavel.

BOMBAY WAR CONFERENCE

BULSAR HOME RULERS' SUGGESTIONS.

A largely attended public meeting of the citizens of Bulsar was held on the 8th instant, under the auspices of the Bulsar Home Rule League. The notable feature was that about fifty Hindu ladies were present. Mr. Dayabhai V. Vakil, the President of the Bulsar Home Rule League, was in the chair.

Mr. Chhagalal Vakil moved the following resolution:—

That in view of the decision of H. E. the Governor of Bombay to hold a Provincial War Conference to consider the Resolutions passed at the Delhi War Conference this Public meeting of the citizens of Surat resolves:—

"That H. E. the Governor of Bombay as President of the Bombay War Conference be requested to intimate to H. E. the Viceroy as the emphatic public opinion of this Presidency that though every loyal citizen of India would desire to respond to the appeal of the Viceroy for India's Man-Power to defend the country against foreign invasion, still it would be practically impossible for the natural leaders of public opinion to inuuence and inspire the people especially those classes from whom a Citizen Army would ordinarily be recruited to go in for military service with enthusiastic alacrity unless and until immediate steps are taken:

(1) To guarantee by an Act of Parliament within a definite period Responsible Self-Government to India with the Congress League Scheme as the first step.

(2) To establish Military Colleges in India and to admit thereto Indians without any distinction of caste, creed, or colour.

(3) To throw open to Indians at least forty per cent. of the total number of the King's Commissions in India and to put the recipients on the same footing as Europeans in respect of pay, promotions, pensions, allowances and all other privileges.

(4) To throw open all the services in the army, navy and the Air-Craft to Indians and to remove all the distinctions between Europeans and Indians as to pay, pension, etc.

(5) To repeal the Arms Act.
(6) To repeal the Press Act.
(7) To grant a general amnesty to all Political Prisoners."

He explained the whole resolution in Gujrati and convinced the people of the harshness of the Arms Act and the stringency of the Press Act. He further said that the Press Act appeared to be more for the native press than for the paper like the "Madras Mail." He then appealed to the Viveroy in words of Mrs. Sarojini Naidu to consider their natural claim of Indians to bear and carry arms.

Messrs. Pragji Khandoobhai and Mamadbhai seconded and supported the resolution respectively.

Mrs. Surya Laxmi Dharamdas, the president of the Bulsar Home Rule League Women's Branch then rose amidst loud sheers to support the said resolution. She spoke feelingly with convincing arguments supported by historical facts.

The resolution was passed unanimously.

PROTEST AGAINST RAILWAY ACT IN S. AFRICA.

Mr. Pragji Khandubhai moved another resolution protesting against the Railway Act passed by the South African Union Government. He told the people what hardships Indians had to undergo in South Africa, which was a part of the British Empire.

The resolution was passed unanimously.

It was also resolved that a copy of the first resolution should be forwarded to H. E. the Governor of Bombay as the President of the Bombay Har Conference and a copy of the second resolution to H. E. the Viceroy.

A vote of thanks to the President terminated the proceedings.

SURAT VIEW.

At a public meeting held under the auspices of the Surat Home Rule League, on Sunday the 9th instant, a resolution similar to above in regard to Bombay War Conference was passed.

FIRE IN A BOMBAY MILL.

In the Meyer Sassoon Mill, in Fergusson Road, a fire broke out, early on Tuesday morning, in the mixing room. As the mill was working at the time the authorities tried to put out the fire with their own appliances, but not succeeding in that the fire engines had to be called, and the fire was put out in half an hour. The damage is estimated at Rs. 15,000, and the cause is attributed to friction of machinery.

SIR S. IYER—DR. WILSON INCIDENT.

SUBJECT TO BE RAISED IN PARLIAMENT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, June 10.

The "Madras Mail's" London correspondent cables:—London, June 1.—General Page Croft and Mr. Joynson Hicks are asking questions in the House of Commons next week regarding the Sir Subramania Iyer—Dr. Wilson incident.

The "Daily Chronicle" states that the Montague-Chelmsford draft memorandum of policy has been submitted to the Cabinet but its tentative publication, I learn, is unlikely yet. The "Daily Telegraph" has a long argumentative article rekarding the dangers of hasty legislation for India.

RICKSHAWALLAHS' STRIKE IN MADRAS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, June 10.

Rickshawallahs of Madras struck work this morning and absolutely refused to carry passengers, explaining that rickshaw owners having raised the hire rate of their vehicles they were not able to make a living. It would appear that the rickshaw was hired for sometime at four annas per diem which was paid in advance by rickshaw coolies. Lately the hire was raised to Rs. 8 per mensem and now the owners demand Rs. 10 per month. This being felt prohibitive the coolies struck work.

KUTUBRI DETENUES TRIAL.

POLICE INSPECTOR'S EVIDENCE.

(From our Correspondent.)

CALCUTTA, June 11.

In the case against the seventeen Kutubri detenus before the Chittagong Special Commissioners, Police Inspector, Satyendra Chowdhury of the Intelligence Branch cross-examined by Mr. C. R. Dass, said the accused had on several occasions petitioned various Government officials for redress of the grievances in respect of water supply, irregularity of payment of allowance, want of winter clothing and other matters. He admitted four accused were taken to Calcutta, in April last. For what purpose, he could not say. He also admitted that on previous occasions the accused had been ill-treated by constables and an enquiry into the accused's complaints resulted in the constables' punishment. On the 8th May, witness went to Kutubdia with a view to pacify the accused. On the night of the 8th there was a singing and dinner party in which he joined the internees. Witness denied suggestioning the idea of seeing the Magistrate and leaving Kutubdia emanated from him, but admitted that, on the night of the 8th, accused stated that they would leave Kutubdia and on the 9th morning, they handed him a petition addressed to the Magistrate saying that if their grievances were not redressed, they would come to Chittagong and personally place the grievances before the Magistrate. Witness arrived at Chittagong on the 9th evening, but did not place the petition before the Magistrate before the 10th afternoon. The accused left Kutubdia on the 10th, accompanied by seventeen constables, two head-constables and one inspector, and arrived at Chittagong on the 10th afternoon, when they were arrested and taken to Kotwali, but were not allowed to see the Magistrate, which they wanted.

OFFICER "UNABLE TO RESIST."

NINETEEN CHARGES OF FRAUD.

Captain (Temporary Major) Herbert Basil Haddon Smith, Army Service Corps, pleaded guilty before a court martial at Westminister on April 18, to 19 charges of fraudulently applying £516 public money and £210 regimental money to his own use, and falsifying account books, while in command of a company in London during October, November, and December, 1917. Captain Eastwood prosecuted, and Sir Ellis Griffith, K.C., M.P., and Mr. Harold Smith, M.P., were for the accused.

Sir Robert Armstrong Jones, the eminent mental specialist, stated that accused had suffered for many years from mental trouble and did so still. He has had four operations in consequence of his condition. "I do not think that he is of quite normal balance," said witness, "and his condition is such that he is not able to exercise self-control and will power."

Cross-examined by Captain East as to whether accused's condition would affect him criminally witness replied: "Criminal" is a very difficult term. There is not a single person in this room entirely without criminal tendencies. (Laughter.) Criminal tendencies are always comming up, but a complete man suppresses them. This man, not being complete, would not be able to resist them."

Captain Walter L. Brown, R.A.M.C., who had also examined the accused, agreed with Sir R. Armstrong Jones.

Sir Ellis Griffith said there never was such a remarkable case. Accused too the money openly frankly showing to other members of the regiment what he was doing. Obviously in the early days he intended to refund it, as he placed I O U's. in the regimental papers. On many occasions he called for money out of regimental funds and sent it by regimental messenger to pay his personal bills at theatres, hotels, etc. Whatever the result of the case his father, Sir G. B. Haddon Smith, Governor of one of our colonies, intended to repay the whole amount of money.—"Daily News."

GUJARAT NOTES.

RECRUITING CAMPAIGN.

(From a Correspondent.)

June 9.

A Meher Girasia who had stopped at Porbunder on his way home, had some currency notes worth eighteen hundred rupees which represented the proceeds of the sale of cotton. When he alighted in order to fetch water the camel extended its flexible trunk to a bundle containing the currency notes and sweets rolled in one and made short work of them both before the Girasia returned to find himself stripped of his savings. This instance shows the depth of ignorance that is suffered to run riot in Kathiawar.

Surat Arts College.

The Second Grade Arts College at Surat to be declared formally open by the Vice-Chancellor on the 19th instant received the following donations in May last: Messrs. Salebhai Taibhai and Sons Rs. 3,000, Sheth Mafatlal Gagalbhai Rs. 3,000, Nawabzada Sirdar Mir Masud Alamkhan Rs. 2,000 (in war bonds), Sheth Purshotam Gobind Rs. 1,000, and small subscribers contributed Rs. 923. To provide facilities for the mofussil students a spacious bungalow belonging to Mr. Gulabhai has already been engaged. It is expected that the first-year classes will be very full this year in all the Colleges and this new College will have more students than its organisers estimate.

The Municipal Health Officer, Surat, deserves to be congratulated on his vigilant supervision of the food supply of the city. The other day he brought a dealer in decayed potatoes to book, and destroyed six maunds of such potatoes. He has also destroyed thirty maunds of decaying potatoes which a merchant had stored in his stall at the Zampa Bazar.

Passing away of a Saintly Lady.

The Jain Community of Kathiawar, Gujarat and Cutch, mourns the loss of Arya Kadvibai who expired at Gondal on Sunday last at the ripe old age of seventy-three She took the vow of celibacy at an early age of thirteen, studied at Morvi until she mastered all the thirty-two Sutras of Jainism and by dint of zeal, earnestness, and spirituality gathered a large following of ardent admirers. As many as two thousand persons followed her coffin which was richly decorated with a dozen high class trappings. At the time of disposing of her dead body, a candy of sandalwood, a maund of ghee and five sacks of cocoanuts were used as offerings from her devoted followers It is decided to spend Rs. 1,500 on the occasion of the Nirvana Mahotsava to be celebrated presently. It was mainly through the efforts of the deceased that Jainism was made an active power at Din, Mangrol, Porebunder, Morvi, Gondal, Rajkot and other places.

Recruiting Meetings in Gujarat.

Reactionaries who nurse the delusion that the Home Rule movement militates against the success of the recruiting campaign in Gujarat, will be rudely shaken by the fact that at a meeting held at Ichhapore, to which twenty-one villages in the Orpad taluka and nine villages in the Chorasi taluka had sent representatives, twenty-one recruits were promised on behalf of each taluka. Another meeting held yesterday at Althan for the same laudable purpose counted delegates from as many as thirty-four villages in the Chorasi taluka. If the officials renounce the old-world notion of prestige and come down from the Olympean height to mix freely with the people, the success of the recruiting movement is but a question of time. The imp of stand-offishness must yield place to the angel of sympathy.

THREATENED STRIKE OF TALATIS.

PANCH MAHALS, KAIRA AND AHMEDABAD DISTRICTS AFFECTED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

A meeting of the Talatis of Panch Mahals was held at Godhra yesterday and resolved to stop work from 16th June if their repeated request for promotion is not granted by the Government. It is understood that the Talatis of Kaira and Ahmedabad districts have also resolved to follow suit.

IMPROVEMENT TRUST'S RETAINER.

SIR D. WACHA ON THE "JOB."

A meeting of the Bombay Improvement Trust was held yesterday, Mr. J. P. Orr presiding. The chairman said the question of the renewal of the general retainer to Mr. T. J. Strangman was an urgent one, as the present one terminated in a week's time. He, therefore, proposed that the retainer be renewed for another year.

The Hon. Sir Dinshaw E. Wacha said he would vote against the proposal.

Mr. Cawasji Jehangir said there could be no objection as Mr. Strangman was the Advocate-General.

Sir Dinshaw said he was tired of this sham every year. Where there no other men who could be retained. Why should they appoint the same man year after year? He said it was a mere job.

The motion was, however, carried

INDIAN RAILWAYS ACT.

DEFECTS TO BE CONSIDERED BY GOVT. OF INDIA.

(From our correspondent.)

SIMLA, June 11.

It will be remembered that last autumn, the Hon. Mr. Jinnah moved a resolution in the Imperial Legislative Council for the appointment of a committee to enquire into the working of the Indian Railways Act. Though the resolution was defeated the Government of India lost no time in inquiring into the question. In referring the matter to local Governments, Sir George Barnes had two main objects in view, the appointment of a Permanent Commission to inquire into the complaints regarding rates and other matters and the establishment of Conciliation Boards for the settlement of strikes. Both these questions were already under the consideration of the Government of India. It was found relevant to the resolution to inquire whether the Railways Act requires amendment in other directions. The Government of India was not aware of any amendments that were urgently required so that the Railway Board be informed of any defects that may have been brought to notice, so that the Government of India may consider and if necessary remedy them.

ALLEGED CONCEALMENT OF ENEMY PROPERTY.

A RANGOON CASE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

RANGOON, June 11.

Before the District Magistrate yesterday Mr. W. P. Hardiman, I.C.S., Custodian of Enemy Property, filed a complaint against A. F. Mathol, managing director of a trading company (late Hegt and Co., a Dutch firm, in Rangoon) for alleged concealment of enemy property. Mr. Hardiman said he filed a complaint in his capacity of Custodian of Enemy Property. He charged the accused Mathol with having concealed certain assets of an enemy firm Beck and Co.

His Worship issued summons to Mr. A. F. Mathol under Rules 6 and 10 of the Registration Act 10 of 1914, fixing the hearing of the case for June 17.

CURRENCY NOTES IN NATIVE STATES

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—I shall feel much obliged to give room to the following in your well-read paper.

I am one with your correspondent "Limbdi-at-present" in your issue of the 4th instant, and humbly beg to add more to the same the following about the cashing of the currency notes.

I went to Kathiawar last week to see my children and wife off to Cutch. I went to the capital of an enlightened Ruler of a 1st class Native State to cash currency notes of Rs. 10 and 5 each, but to my utter disappointment I could not succeed. I therefore went to the Post Office and requested the Postmaster to give me cash but the Postmaster flatly refused to give me cash. I again went to the Bazar and after giving a discount of annas two I was hardly able to cash Rs. 5 currency note only.

I left the said capital for Bombay when I had the good chance of having the company of two well-known cotton merchants of Bombay who were bitterly complaining of not receiving the delivery without cash. They were the buyers to the extent of 3 to 5 lakhs of rupees. Native State merchants and farmers declined to give them delivery without cash. These Bombay merchants had with them currency notes worth that much and tendered the same but to no purpose. Gin owners do not give cotton unless they are paid in cash. Labourers are frightened to see the rupee currency notes and decline to accept them.

I had another rupee note, a little bit torn and offered the same to the Manager of a large boarding house at Girgaum who flatly refused to accept it.—Yours, etc.,

Grant Road, June 6. "TRIBEDI."

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—From what fell from the lips of the Kathiawar Maharajas who spoke at the Town Hall Conference yesterday, while speaking for themselves and their brother Highnesses in the Kathiawar, I could get only one impression and that was that ever since the war broke out, they have undergone great sacrifices and they simply want to know what more they can do and no sacrifice will be too great for them. With such ideals before them I do not know why it has not struck their Highnesses so far, what effect the difficulties in the circulation of the currency-notes that exist to the present day in most of the Kathiawar States have on the present situation. If more effort is to be made in increasing the resources and the man-power and that too successfully, it can only be done provided every effort is made to maintain implicit confidence in the stability of the Empire. The attention of some of their Highnesses has been drawn to the difficulties in the note-circulation, and if they want the world to believe that they are sincere in their professions of loyalty—profuse as they are—they cannot be believed if in such simple things as circulation of notes very little or nothing is done in their States. Those who cannot fight can help those that fight and one method is by subscribing liberally to the War Loan. If in Kathiawar States no attempt is made to remove the lack of confidence in Government which is shown by difficulty in circulation of currency-notes, what effect will their words have when they ask their subjects to subscribe to the War Loan? A week back the discount for encashing notes was as much as Rs. 4 per cent. and if the States do not act immediately in the matter one would be perhaps justified in not honestly feeling sure of their sincerity.—Yours, etc.,

THE BOMBAY CHRONICLE.
Wednesday, 12th June, 1918.

A COMPARISON.

In view of Lord Willingdon's offensive remarks about Home Rulers, it is worth recalling what is happening to-day in other parts of the Empire. In South Africa, for instance, feeling is extremely divided and the Afrikander element has shown not only disapproval but open hostility to the proposal that South Africa should assist England. The Dutch Nationalists led by General Hertzog have openly sympathised with the Germans and, according to Sir P. Fitzpatrick, "the Nationalists were acting like paid spies and hirelings of the enemy and were deliberately provoking disturbance and civil war." It is well-known that at the beginning of the war, there was a rebellion in South Africa and though the rebellion was put down, the rebel leaders themselves were treated in a very generous manner. Since then Nationalist feeling has not improved; if anything, the feeling against England has deepened during the past two years and the Nationalists have never concealed their ill-will and hostility to Great Britain. They have been assiduously carrying on an extensive Republican propaganda and the progress of the war has not affected their campaign.

As compared with this, what is the position in this country? Indians of all classes have been steadfastly loyal and devoted to the British connection and they have always expressed their readiness to cooperate with Government in the vigorous prosecution of the war. Only they have asked for the completest trust to be reposed in them. Their greatest sin amounts to this,—we make no apology for quoting the words in which Lord Willingdon has expressed their attitude:—

"We quite realise the gravity of the situation, we are all anxious to help, but unless Home Rule is promised within a given number of years, and unless various other assurances are given us with regard to other matters, we do not think we can stir the imagination of the people, and we cannot hope for a successful issue to the recruiting campaign."

They ask for Home Rule; they ask for Self-determination. Neither by word nor deed have they ever suggested that they want separation from England. All that the Home Rulers are doing is that they are fighting for the effective recognition in the case of India too, of a principle which has been accepted in the case of Ireland within the Empire. The pre-occupations of the most critical phase upon which the war has entered has not prevented the Ministers from expediting their Irish Home Rule proposals. British Ministers have not declaimed against political agitators. We are constrained to recall these well-known facts to show that, after all, the position of Home Rulers in India, as described by Lord Willingdon, is not untenable nor embarrassing to a Government that means to act up to its promises. In face of the War Cabinet's statement on the passports, the granting of a passport to Dr. Nair and a score of other evil portents, Lord Willingdon asks Indians to trust to Providence and himself,—when he goes Home to advocate the cause of India,—according to his limited notions,—from his seat in the Imperial Parliament. We do not doubt Lord Willingdon's sincerity, as he doubts that of Indian leaders, but we are unable to subscribe to the magnificence of the hope which his egotism leads him to believe may be reposed in his power to turn the world upside down from his seat in the Imperial Parliament.

THE BABTIE SCANDAL.

We are glad that one powerful London daily newspaper has at last spoken out on the scandal of the reinstatement of Surgeon-General Babtie, followed by the greater scandal of his appointment as Medical-Adviser to the Adjutant-General. The appointment was made some time ago but only now has a protest come from the daily press,—as far as we know,—against what the "Daily Chronicle" rightly calls a "betrayal of the interests of the nation." The paralysis that seems to have seized upon the Press and Parliament in regard to all matters of this kind is extraordinary. The most amazing and indecent acts of defiance of the public interest are allowed to pass, or remain unnoticed, until some journal like "John Bull" has roused public opinion. In this case the condemnation of Surgeon-General Babtie stands on evidence publicly revealed in the damning pages of the Mesopotamia Commission. The Army Council hold a secret enquiry and exonerate and reinstate him without a word of explanation to the public in justification of their action. The appointment of Mr. Austen Chamberlain to the War Cabinet is a lesser scandal but it is grave enough. "John Bull" describing it as "a Challenge to the Nation." says:—

The return of Mr. Austen Chamberlain to the Cabinet and the reinstatement of Sir William Babtie in the theatre of his muddling and murderous activities, are a direct challenge and a gross affront to public sentiment. Monocled Mediocrity paid the penalty for the horrors of Mesopotamia, for which, as Secretary of State for India, he was responsible; whilst it was the ghastly incompetency of Babtie which provided one of the most blood-sodden and ghastly pages in the history of war—outrivalling the worst revelations of the Crimea. And yet for political and social reasons—because there are fools to be feared and Society people to be piacated—Mr. Chamberlain is not only recalled, but raised to the high responsibilities of the War Cabinet; and the man primarily responsible for the murders of Mesopotamia is promoted in rank and to the control of the Army Medical Services. Instead of so many thousands of lives being under his charge and at his mercy, he now has millions. Think of it! This man failed, and failed ignominiously. On his head are the blood and tears, the sorrow and suffering, of the wonderful heroes who died in filth and misery, who lingered in unthinkable pain, and passed to the Great Unknown in indescribable agony because this man—Major-General, now Lieutenant-General, Sir William Babtie failed in his duty.

The "Daily Chronicle" hopes that Lord Milner will "review" the Army Council's decision regarding Surgeon-General Babtie. But what is to be expected of Lord Milner? We agree with the protest which the same journal makes regarding his appointment as Secretary for War:—

Ever since the days of the South African War, Lord Milner has been a sinister and almost secret figure in our public life. His temperament is wholly Prussian. He is a man without any of those human sympathies and attributes so essential to true statesmanship; he flits in and out of the Cabinet Council Room with a minimum of popular authority and a maximum of power. He has never sought or gained the confidence of the people. And, above all, he is tainted with Teutonic associations. . . Recent biographies are silent on his antecedents, but there are earlier records, and from these we know that his forebears elected to sink British identity and merge all their fortunes in the land of the Hun; that he was born in Germany, and as a boy was educated in the academies of Kultur. That is enough for us. This war is a war against all that the German stands for, all that his education and up-bringing stand for. And it is an insult to the men who are fighting, to the families that are suffering, that such a man as Lord Milner should to-day be raised to the great and honourable and onerous office of Secretary of State for War.

Lord Milner was the author, so it is stated, of the War Cabinet's statement justifying the cancellation of the Home Rule Deputation passports. We can well believe it. It's Prussianism is beyond even Lord Curzon. The nation has reason to value Mr. Lloyd George's energy and driving force as an instrument for the vigorous prosecution of the war. But it can be bought at too high a price. Is the Gravesend election a sign that the nation is beginning to realise this.

Notes of the Day.

An Unselfish War.

"The glory of this war", said President Wilson the other day, addressing his countrymen, "is that, it is perhaps, for the first time in history, so far as we are concerned, an unselfish war." Nothing, he said on Monday in his speech before the Mexican journalists, had aroused so much enthusiasm among the people as his statement that America meant to stand by Russia just as firmly as she would stand by France, Britain or any other Ally. This we may well believe. For it is the simple truth that while all other Allies have entered into the war for idealistic objects, the participation in the war of the United States has a special value of its own. There can be no doubt that the influence of the United States has been pervasive in the affairs of the world and President Wilson's hope that this influence will not last only for a short time will be fully realised.

The Influence of U. S.

President Wilson believes that the influence is pervasive because less powerful nations are coming to believe that America's sincere desire is disinterested service. And the world could not have a more convincing proof of America's disinterested service than her determination to stand by Russia—the hapless country which is the victim at once of the cupidity of its people and the perfidy of the Prussian invaders. "The United States", as President Wilson says, "cannot make anything out of standing by Russia at present.' "Russia is the most remote European nation as far as America is concerned and one with which the United States has had the least connections in trade and advantage." Nevertheless, the people of the United States have risen to their President's call to stand by her. They have so determined to stand because they have at their head a statesman who, more than any other statesman on the side of the Allies, has shown a masterful grip of the real motive that is working through this tragedy and a clear apprehension of the means of its accomplishment. And President Wilson himself has been able to see the conflict in its true perspective, because of his detachment from the passions and the confused motives of European politics.

"For What We Have Received—!"

The following admirable comment on the cancellation of the passports of the Home Rule Deputation appears in the "Manchester Guardian":—

We cannot say that the memorandum or manifesto issued by the War Cabinet in justification of their refusal of passports to the Congress and Home Rule delegates from India impresses us as a very statesmanlike document. The names of the delegates have not been published, but they appear to be well-known people, and those of them who are appointed by the Congress have a certain representative character. It seems to us unwise to refuse liberty of approach by any reforming party in India, even though it may be a somewhat extreme party, to England and to English public men. It is true that the Secretary of State is at this time in India for the very purpose of collecting opinions on the question of Indian constitutional reform, and the Congress delegates have no doubt had access to him. But that is no reason why they should not also have access to friends in this country whom they may desire to influence or to consult. The whole procedure seems to us to savour of arbitrariness on the one hand and, on the other, of timidity. What conceivable peril to the welfare of India or of this country can there be in permitting such a deputation to say all they may wish to say in this country? The impression given by the Government manifesto is that no discussion can be permitted, and that all that India has to do is to accept with thankfulness what is offered to her. If it be true that the objects of the deputation are unreasonable, or dangerous, surely the refusal to discuss them is likely to do far more harm in India than could possibly arise from their discussion here. This sort of timid arbitrariness has become too much a note of the War Cabinet's policy in all such matters. That they should not want to be troubled in the midst of their overwhelming preoccupations may be natural enough, but there are other people in this country who are less burdened, and, after all, the reform of Indian government is a war measure, just as the reform of Irish Government is a war measure.

Commissions to Indians.

Yet one more of those endless official statements regarding the absorbing topic of granting commissions to Indians! The question is now as old as any that could ever be and his Majesty's Government in England appear to be still unable to make up their mind on the subject. Replying to the indefatigable Sir John Rees in the House of Commons, Mr. Montagu stated on June 5th that "the question of granting more commissions to Indians was being sympathetically considered." Having regard to the fact that even the Delhi Conference felt itself bound to treat the matter as an urgent war measure, the reply is very extraordinary. The Hon. Mr. Jinnah was perfectly right when he bitterly complained at the Bombay War Conference meeting about the failure of Government to act up to its promises. And need we add that this was one of the foremost items in his spirited indictment? From the wording of Mr. Montagu's reply, it seems as if his Majesty's Government have no intention of recognizing the general right of Indians to hold commissions, but that they intend to give perhaps a few more commissions, as a matter of grace and to placate the feeling in the country. Such a proceeding will not satisfy the people who will not be content with anything less than a complete recognition of their right to be admitted to commissioned ranks in the Indian Army.

Kaira Again.

On the 8th instant, the Collector of Kaira in his capacity as District Magistrate disposed of a case in which one Mr. Mohanlal Pandya and five others were charged with theft. Mr. Mohanlal is one of those who were prominently associated with Mr. Gandhi in the Passive Resistance campaign which lately came to an end. The charge against Mr. Mohanlal and the five others was that they removed onions from a field for which notice of forfeiture was issued. The magistrate convicted them of theft and sentenced four of them to 20 days' simple imprisonment and the two others to ten days. Our special correspondent mentions that, although the official version says that the notice of forfeiture was issued, in reality the particular survey number was not expressly mentioned in the notice. In their statement the accused also stated their honest belief that there was nothing illegal in their action. Mr. Gandhi in his evidence claimed the sole responsibility for the removal of the onions, as it was he who had advised the accused to remove the onions, and pleaded that, as such, any punishment should be meted out to him. The Magistrate did not accept Mr. Gandhi's plea and sentenced those who were not responsible for the removal, as mentioned above.

Is It a New Phase?

The authorities in Kaira are no doubt sore over their failure to coerce the people and break down their spirit of resistance, but it would be deplorable to think that they have now resorted to new methods of harassing the people. But, if we are to believe our correspondent, the struggle in the Kaira district is entering upon a new phase. We do not know if the Collector thinks that this will serve any useful purpose or help to allay the apprehensions in the public mind. It does not require much commonsense to realise that in this case the real offender, if an offence was committed at all, was Mr. Gandhi and he admitted it. Those who were convicted were merely acting as agents and carried out Mr. Gandhi's instructions. Mr. Gandhi, trusting to the judgment of the Collector, got the case transferred to the latter's file. But the result does not show that Mr. Gandhi's trust was justified. Further, having regard to all the circumstances, sentences of imprisonment were not called for in the interests of justice and the inference is that their severity was prompted by other considerations.

Hasrat Mohani.

Our readers will remember that Maulana Fazlul Hasan Hasrat Mohani was recently released from the Meerut jail after serving the full term of two years' imprisonment to which he had been sentenced for refusing to obey the order of his internment on conscientious ground. The Maulana is, of course, not free, for the original order of internment is still in force and prevents him from going to Aligarh which is his home. We understand that, having been pressed by his friends, he has agreed to remain at Kathor (Meerut Dist.) for a few days and that, in the meantime, a memorial is being sent to the Government to allow him to live at Aligarh. The arrangement, we are informed, was arrived at after great difficulty and only on the Government cancelling a notice under the Defence of India Act served on him.

MADRAS UNIVERSITY.

SIR SIVASWAMI IYER DECLINES VICE-CHANCELLORSHIP.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
MADRAS, June 10

Sir P. S. Sivaswami Iyer, it is understood, has expressed his unwillingness to act as Vice-Chancellor of the Madras University for another term on the ground that his recent appointment as Vice-Chancellor of the Benares University would keep him too busy for work in Madras. The appointment of a new Vice-Chancellor to the Madras University is still under consideration.

WAR "TANK" IN CALCUTTA.

COOPERATES IN WAR LOAN PROPAGANDA.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
CALCUTTA, June 10.

The "War Tank" that has been presented by Messrs. Mackinnon Mackenzie and Company to the Publicity Committee in connection with the second Indian War Loan, made its first excursion this morning towards Chitpur in charge of Mr. S. K. Sawday, Deputy Chairman of the Corporation. The tank proper has been built on the basis of a motor lorry and is thirty feet in length eleven feet and a quarter in width and fourteen feet in height. The frame work consists of wood and steel iron. The interior has been fitted up with electric lights and fans and two office rooms have been provided for the use of office staff. Leaflets with a picture of the tank in English, Bangali and Hindi were and will be distributed as it proceeds along the different thoroughfares of the city and its suburbs.

BRITISH FOREIGN POLICY.

QUESTIONS IN COMMONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, June 10.
Recd. 1-15 p.m. June 11.

In the House of Commons Mr. Balfour promised to consider in consultation with Mr. Bonar Law the suggestion that Mr. Balfour might keep the House informed of the Government's foreign policy in the secret sessions.

Mr. Herbert Samuel asked when could Mr. Bonar Law inform the House of the Government's Irish policy?

Mr. Bonar Law said he was sorry he could not name a time or make any further statement.

WAR PRISONERS' CONFERENCE.

Replying to questions Mr. Bonar Law said the British delegates to The Hague had been instructed by the War Cabinet on the lines indicated in his reply on May 28th.

STATUS OF WOMEN IN COMMONS

Replying to Mr. Whitehouse Mr. Bonar Law stated that the Government was considering the question of the position of women with respect to election to the House of Commons

DRAMATIC DENOUEMENT IN FAR EAST LIKELY.

PRO-GERMAN BOLSHEVISM EXTENDING.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)
LONDON, June 10.
Recd. 8 a.m., June 11.

A telegram to the "Daily Mail" from Tokio dated June 1st says pro-German Bolshevism west of Harbin is sweeping eastward threatening to pass Harbin and extend in the direction of Vladivostok. The Cossack leader Semenoff is no longer a barrier to it. The Japanese military authorities cannot safely ignore the situation and the correspondent says his belief founded on good information, is that the Far East may witness a dramatic denouement.

THE BATTLE ON FRENCH FRONT.

CONTINUES WITH UNABATED FURY.

ATTACK IN CENTRE.

The battle between Montdidier and the Oise, which opened on Saturday midnight, continues with unabated fury. On the left we hold the positions. By repeated assaults the enemy captured the villages of Mery, Belloy and St. Maur. In Marqueglise, which is in the middle of the fighting line, the enemy gained a footing and has pushed in to a depth of seven miles from his starting point. The Germans are paying heavily for each step they make. Between the Ourcq and the Marne, several enemy attacks were repulsed.

On the British front there is nothing to report except reciprocal artillery activity. On the Italian front three surprise attacks have been repulsed, while we conducted a raid on Troldellorso.

ENEMY ADVANCE ON MONDAY

TO DEPTH OF THREE MILES.

(Reuter's Telegram.)
LONDON, June 11, 7-15 a.m.
Recd. 11 p.m., June 11.

Reuter's correspondent at French headquarters telegraphing on Monday evening says: The enemy in the course of the day at immense cost succeeded in pushing his advance from one mile to three miles deeper in our front.

At Marqueglise, the southernmost point of his salient he is about seven miles from his starting point yesterday morning. Fighting has been of almost unprecedented fury.

Germans continue the attack in compact masses which are mown down by gunfire, but others and still others follow. When a position is finally taken by the enemy as often as not, it is promptly retaken by the French. In these counter-attacks French invariably find the ground littered with German dead often lying in heaps. The little height called Plemont, south of Lassigny, must be paved with enemy dead. It was held by dismounted cavalry.

The last despatch runners who got through from Plemont before its fall say they themselves saw fourteen unsuccessful German attacks on the hill and there were others after they left. It is estimated that the Germans engaged twenty or thirty divisions towards the evening.

The enemy's advance is so slow that he is able to bring up light artillery, while heavy guns are still firing from the old positions. Artillery strength is accordingly practically equal, although the French is more effective being familiar with the ground. The fierceness of fighting and the inflexible determination with which the enemy accepts shocking losses show that he is determined to continue until complete victory or complete exhaustion in the decisive battle of the year in which he is engaged.

SCENE OF LATEST OFFENSIVE.

BETWEEN METZ AND OISE AT MONT MARCQ.

(Reuter's Telegram.)
LONDON, 4-45 p.m. June 10.
Recd. 12-30 p.m. June 11.

Reuter's correspondent at the French Headquarters wiring to-day says the scene of the latest offensive is a wooded hilly country bisected by the river Metz which flowing south joins the Oise at Montmacq. The enemy's principal progress yesterday was along the course of the Metz. Their first object probably was to reach the Oise and thereby take in flank the whole French salient north of the Oise which might result in our withdrawal to the south bank.

PARIS AS OBJECTIVE.

Supposing the enemy's objective to be Paris, he would naturally begin thrusting a powerful tentacle southwestward down the Oise valley and another westward from the Ourcq line thereby encircling a vast mass comprising Aigle, Compiegne and the Villers Cotteret forests which being impregnable to a frontal attack the enemy probably intends to pass the north and the south bringing the tentacles together. If this is enemy's plan it is overambitious and impossible of accomplishment. As soon as the impossibility is realised the enemy's efforts will probably be directed owards Amiens or Calais.

RESERVES OF ENEMY MANHOOD DECLINING.

Meanwhile his battalions are being depleted in constant fighting from Noyon to Chateau Thierry and from Verneuil to Rheims in his reserves of manhood are declining. Out of two hundred prisoners taken in the first few days of June over one fourth belonged to 1919 class and class 1920 has made its appearance on the battle field. Among the prisoners captured at Bligny was a considerable proportion of lads of this class.

ENLISTMENTS IN VICTORIA.

(Reuter's Telegram.)
MELBOURNE, June 10.
Recd. 1-15 p.m. June 11.

Enlistments in Victoria for May were the largest for many months. Recruits, who enlisted in New South Wales last week, exceeded the required quota.

ENEMY CAPTURES SOME VILLAGES.

ATTACKS BROKEN ON THE LEFT.

(Reuter's Telegram.)
LONDON, June 11, 1-30.
Recd. 4-45 p.m., June 11

Last night's French communiqué said: During the second day of the offensive the enemy sought by powerful attacks, unceasingly strengthened by the new effectives, to advance in the direction of Estrees-St. Denis and Ribecourt. Our troops resisted tenaciously. The enemy captured by repeated assaults at the cost of heavy sacrifices the villages of Mery, Belloy and St. Maur. Heroic conflicts occurred on the plateau of Belloy.

South of Ressons-sur-Matz, the enemy gained a footing in Marqueglise. Further east the battle continues on the southern outskirts of Elincouurt. On the right, the enemy succeeed in debouching from Bois de Thiescourt.

On the left, between Courselles and Rubescourt, we broke the enemy's attacks and are holding our positions.

AIRMEN'S ACTIVITIES.

Our airmen brought down eleven enemy aeroplanes. Bombing machines intervened in the battle and immediately attacked unceasingly the enemy's troops massed behind the front of the attack. Eighteen tons of projectiles were dropped on the enemy convoys and railway stations. Great fire followed an explosion caused at the Roye Railway station.

GERMAN ATTACKS SHATTERED.

ENEMY PROGRESS IN CENTRE.

(Reuter's Telegram.)
LONDON, 4-5 p.m. June, 10.
Recd. 12 noon June 11.

A French communiqué says the German drive continued yesterday evening and last night with the same desperation. On our left wing violent attacks were renewed several times but were shattered by our fire and counter-attacks. Courcelles, which was captured and recaptured, remained in our possession. On our right we held on the south and east of Ville, the possession of which had been bitterly disputed. We took over five hundred prisoners in these actions.

In the centre the enemy tried by using new forces to extend his progress. He succeeded in reaching the southern outskirts of Cuvilly-le-Bois, Risson-sur-Matz and the Plateau of Bellenglise. Farther east the fighting continues in Bois-de-Thiescourt. Prisoners unanimously state that the battle hitherto has cost the attacking units enormous losses. North of the Aisne the artillery duel was somewhat lively. We concluded a local operation undertaken last evening east of Lauteblaye and took 150 prisoners. Between the Ourcq and the Marne we repulsed several enemy attacks east of Vinly in the region of Bussiares. The French and the American units gained ground bringing the number of their prisoners to 250 and capturing 30 machineguns.

WHAT IS ENEMY'S ULTIMATE OBJECTIVE?

PARIS LIKELY TO BE "TOMB OF GERMAN ARMIES."

(Reuter's Telegram.)
LONDON, 7-30 p.m. June 10.
Recd. 12 noon June 11.

There was no element of surprise in the renewal of the German offensive. The sector chosen between Noyon and Montdidier was anticipated in the reviews of expert opinion recently cabled. The principal objective is the famous town of Campiegne between which and Noyon the country is densely wooded but the ultimate objective is obviously Paris.

The French line covering the Capital forms a salient from Montdidier to Troesnes on the Ourcq with extension thence to the Marne at Essome. Inside the salient the main military centre is Compiegne while Villers Cotteret is a subsidiary centre. All this fortified territory is the chief remaining bulwark of the Capital. It consists of

FRENCH BRAVERY AND TENACITY.

ENEMY PAYING FULL PRICE FOR EVERY KILOMETRE.

HEAVY ENEMY LOSSES.

(Reuter's Telegram.)
LONDON, June 10.
Recd. 8 a.m. June 11.

Reuter's correspondent at French Headquarters wiring on the evening of the 9th says the latest reports from the battle-field are encouraging. The French are fighting with great bravery and tenacity. Right and left of the battle area the enemy, in spite of the most powerful efforts, is unable to progress beyond advanced positions technically called the covering zone, which is swept by fire from his mine-throwers.

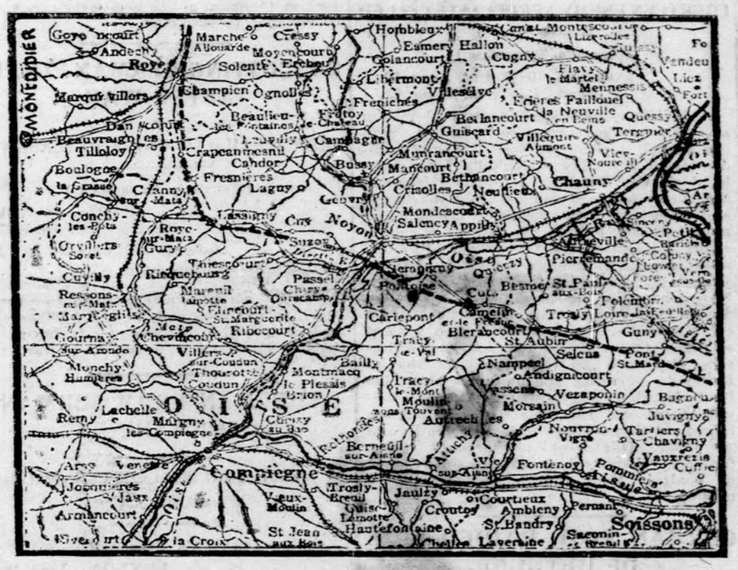
In the centre, the Germans succeeded in cutting an obtuse salient out of our line with its farthest point at Ressons-sur-Matz and their gain consists of a belt of ground twelve hundred yards deep, which they were able to batter with heavy trench artillery.

There is nothing discouraging about the result of the first day's fighting. The enemy's method of attack was the same as on March 27th, namely heavy gas bombardment for 1½ hours followed by an attack in closely massed formation in great strength, with the object of swamping our line before the defence organisation could take effect.

The densen ss of the enemy's formation was greater than in previous attacks and his losses must have been extraordinarily heavy, for the guns had him at their mercy and did terrible execution. Several anxious days are ahead.

It is certain that the enemy will make an extremely bitter fight for it, but he is paying full price for every kilometre.

THE NEW THRUST.



THE PRESENT BATTLE IS BEING WAGED BETWEEN MONTDIDIER AND THE OISE.

RESISTANCE BY FIRST FRENCH LINES.

FRIGHTFUL GERMAN LOSSES.

(Reuter's Telegram.)
PARIS, June 10.
Recd. 8 a.m., June 11.

A Havas correspondent at the front wiring on the evening of the 9th says the resistance which our first lines have been called on to offer compelled the enemy to deploy on positions, the range of which our artillery well knew, consequently the enemy experienced heavier losses than in the two previous offensives. A semiofficial statement confirms that the German losses were really frightful.

AMERICANS IMPROVE POSITIONS.

HOSTILE POSITIONS SUCCESSFULLY RECONNOITRED.

LONDON, 2-15 a. m., June 11.
Recd. 4-45 p.m., June 11.

An American communique says:—Northwestward of Chateau-Thierry, we co-operating with the French, again improved our position and inflicted losses. Our patrols crossed the Marne and successfully reconnoitred hostile positions.

ITALIAN FRONT.

SUCCESSFUL RAID ON TROLDELLORSE.

(Reuter's Telegram.)
LONDON, 6-15 p.m. June 10.
Recd. 1-15 p.m. June 11.

An Italian communiqué says the advance posts at Vallagarina and in three other sectors frustrated the surprise attacks by large enemy detachments. The Italian and the British patrols drove back the reconnoitrers along the mountain front. We captured the arms and material in a raid on Troldellorse.

U. S. AND MEXICO.

PRESIDENT WILSON ON WAR AIMS.

"PEACE CAN ONLY COME BY TRUST."

(Reuter's Telegram.)
LONDON, June 10.
Recd. 3 p.m. June 11.

Addressing a group of distinguished Mexican editors and journalists, who are touring the United States, at White House, President Wilson emphasised the American friendship towards Mexico. He said that his own policy towards Mexico was based on the principle that America was not entitled to interfere in any way in the Mexican internal affairs. The United States' troops had been sent to Mexico only in order to assist Mexico to get rid of the man who was making the settlement of Mexican affairs temporarily impossible.

Alluding to the German attempts to make trouble between the United States and Mexico, President Wilson instanced the fantastic statement in a Mexican paper that thirteen American battleships had been sunk off Cape Chesapeake. The influence of the United States for the time being, and he hoped it would not be a short time, was somewhat pervasive in the affairs of the world. He believed it was pervasive because less powerfuul nations were coming to believe that America's sincere desire was disinterested service.

AMERICA IN WAR FOR IDEALISTIC OBJECTS.

President Wilson said, "We are champions of those nations which have not had military standing which would enable them to compete with the strongest nations in the world and we look forward to the time which I hope will come, when we can give substantial evidence not only that we do not want anything out of this war but that we would not accept anything out of it." Nothing has stirred America so deeply as the assurances that this war, as far as they were concerned, was for idealistic objects. Nothing that he had said in his recent address in New York on the occasion of the opening of the American Red Cross campaign had aroused so much enthusiasm as his statement that America meant to stand by Russia just as firmly as she would stand by France, Britain or any other Ally. That was an example of America's attitude.

The United States could not make anything out of standing by Russia at present. Russia was the most remote European nation as far as America was concerned and the one with which the United States had had the least connections in trade and advantage, yet the people of the United States rose to that suggestion as to no other that he had made in that address.

TO FIGHT AGAINST SELFISH AGGRESSION.

After emphasising that his hearers had been gladly admitted to every establishment in America that they had wished to see and had been shown just what America was doing, President Wilson proceeded to explain why America was doing what she was doing. "We are doing it," he said, "so that the world may never hereafter have to fear the only thing that any nation has to dread, namely, unjust selfish aggression of another nation." Some time ago he had proposed a sort of pan-American agreement. One of the difficulties of America's past relationships with Latin America had been that the Monroe Doctrine was adopted without the consent of any of the Central American or South American States. That was all very well as far as protecting such states from aggression from across the sea was concerned, but there was nothing in it that protected those states from aggression from the United States and he had repeatedly seen an uneasy feeling on the part of representatives of those states that America's self-appointed protection might be for her own benefit and own interest, not for the interest of her neighbours.

So he said, "If any one of us including the United States violates political independence or territorial integrity of any of the others all the others will jump on her that is a kind of agreement that must be the part of the United States that the United States would enter into an arrange-

HOME RULERS AND THE WAR CONFERENCE.

LORD WILLINGDON'S "HIGH-HANDED ACTION."

STATEMENT BY THOSE WHO WALKED OUT.

The following statement is published by Mr. Tilak and others who left the War Conference on Monday:—

As your readers are aware, as members of the War Conference held on Monday last, we were obliged to take the unusual step of walking out of the meeting. This step was obviously necessitated by the unusual course which H. E. the Governor as Chairman of the Conference chose to adopt. And we may as well set out the grounds on which our action in retiring from the Conference was based.

The object of the Conference was professedly to seek the cooperation of the people in the war measures which Government thought it was necessary to take in this Presidency at this critical juncture. It was to be expected, therefore, that Government would be prepared to invite to the Conference people of all shades of political opinion in the Presidency and to give them a patient and courteous hearing. Being invited to the Conference, we had to attend it, and having attended it, we had of course to tell Government what we thought of the matter upon which we had met to confer together. But the whole procedure of the Conference was so designed as completely to defeat this purpose. In the first place the resolutions to be placed before the Conference were prepared in the Secretariat and no sub-committees were formed as was done at the Delhi Conference. The wording of the resolutions could not be expected to satisfy all parties to the Conference. And as no sub-committees were formed to consider and draft the resolutions, the Chairman was bound in all fairness to give an opportunity to the members of the Conference, who were to be bound by the resolutions, to move amendments to them in open Conference. But Government had decided beforehand that no amendments were to be allowed to be moved, nor even changes of wording to be suggested in speeches. The only course left open to the members of the Conference to ventilate their views was to speak on the resolutions in a general way without moving amendments; and even if this had been allowed, the members might, to some extent, have served their purpose. But far from this, his Excellency, as Chairman of the meeting, deliberately attacked Home Rulers, made unwarrantd accusations and threw unjustifiable aspersions upon them. And when some of the Home Rulers, Messrs. Tilak and Kelkar, attending the Conference by invitation, proceeded to make speeches by way of explaining their position as non-official men invited to co-operate with Government in recruiting man-power and carrying out other war measures, the Chairman peremptorily stopped them, before they had uttered a few sentences, on the ground that no political discussion was to be allowed on the resolution expressing loyalty to the Crown. The only self-respecting course for Mr. Tilak and Mr. Kelkar under the circumstances was to refuse to take further part in the Conference and to retire from it. And the others of us had no alternative, but to follow their example. We felt that if we had not retired from the Conference, our position would have been hopelessly compromised.

The whole procedure at the Conference was peculiarly inequitable and unfair. If Government wanted to take the credit for fairness in having invited to the Conference people of all shades of opinion, they should have anticipated that differences of opinion on the resolutions, whether as being imperfectly or inadequately worded, must arise and should have therefore provided some acceptable method for the expression of a variety of views or opinions. But to a hide-bound programme of resolutions and procedure, prepared in the Secretariat, his Excellency added a high-handed and indefensible exercise of his authority as Chairman.

In regard to the contention of his Excellency that any "political discussion," as he termed it, was out of order on the first resolution, we may point out that the resolution was more than a mere expression of loyalty to the King-Emperor. The resolution contained the expression of the determination of the Presidency to continue "to do her duty to the utmost capacity." This, we contend, invited the fullest discussion in regard to the whole of the proposals and methods adopted by the Government for the purpose of translating into action the loyal determination of the Presidency to do her duty,—methods and proposals to which we were unable wholly to assent. As to the first part of the resolution expressing loyalty to the King-Emperor both Mr. Tilak and Mr. Kelkar emphatically expressed, on behalf of themselves and Home Rulers generally, their firm adhesion to this sentiment. But they desired to point out why the Presidency could not possibly do her duty "to its utmost capacity" so long as certain existing conditions were not altered. We are at a loss to understand how such speeches could be impugned on the ground of their being irrelevant or out of order. There was no intention of moving any amendment, in deference to the ruling of the chair, though such a course would have been justified under Parliamentary procedure, for it is well known that amendments to loyal addresses to the Throne are regularly moved in the House of Commons. We had to be content merely with speeches, but even that was denied to us.

The main ground of objection on his Excellency's part was that of political discussion. His Excellency's own speech was distinguished by political discussion of a most controversial character. We were entitled to an opportunity of replying to his gratuitous and provocative attack on Home Rulers and that opportunity should have been afforded to us on the first resolution which stated in general terms the objects of the Conference.

We may say in conclusion that before the Conference some of us were informed, on behalf of the Governor, in response to enquiries, that "open discussion" on the resolutions would be allowed and that "any criticisms or suggestions which speakers may make in the course of discussion will receive careful consideration of Government." We think this is a conclusive commentary on the arbitrary and inconsistent action of his Excellency in stopping the speeches of Mr. Tilak and Mr. Kelkar.—Yours, etc.,

HOME RULERS AND WAR LOAN MEETING.

REFUSAL TO ATTEND UNDER HIS EXCELLENCY'S CHAIRMANSHIP.

The following letters have been addressed to the Sheriff of Bombay and the Secretary of the War Loan Committee respectively:—

Bombay, 11th June, 1918.

The Hon. Mr. MAHOMADBHOY HAJIBHOY LALJEE, J.P.,
Sheriff of Bombay.

Sir,

We have to request you to withdraw our names from the list of signatories to the requisition for the public meeting at the Town Hall on the 12th instant in respect of the Second War Loan.

We are in full sympathy with the objects of the meeting, but we must decline to attend any meeting presided over by H. E. Lord Willingdon, in view of the insulting remarks made by him regarding the Home Rule League, of which we are members, at the Provincial War Conference, on Monday last, unless and until his Excellency withdraws and expresses his regret for the unwarranted aspersions on Home Rule Leaders made by him on the occasion referred to.

We have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servants,
(Sd.) JAMNADAS DWARKADAS.
" S. R. BOMANJI.
" B. G. HORNIMAN.
" UMAR SOBANI.

Bombay, 11th June, 1918.

A. G. GREY, Esq.,
Provincial Joint Hon. Secretary,
War Loan Executive Committee.

Dear Sir,

In reply to your letter of the 10th instant we beg to inform you that we have withdrawn our names from the list of signatories to the War Loan Meeting, for the reasons stated in the letter we have addressed to the Sheriff of Bombay, copy of which we enclose.

You will kindly, therefore, not propose our names as members of the General Committee.

Yours faithfully,
(Sd.) JAMNADAS DWARKADAS.
" S. R. BOMANJI.
" B. G. HORNIMAN.
" UMAR SOBANI.

Mr. Lakhmidas Tairsee has addressed the following letter to the Secretary of the War Loan Committee:—

Gentleman,

Your esteemed favour of the 10th instant to hand this day, for which many thanks. I appreciate the invitation extended to me to join the General Committee, but being a Home Ruler,—and also a member of the Managing Committee of the League from its start—I do not think I should seek an opportunity—which I can avoid,—of my sincerity being open to question further, and therefore I regret to have to decline the honour with thanks.

Faithfully yours,
(Sd.) LAKHMIDAS ROWJEE TAIRSEE.

Other members of the Home Rule League have also refused to attend the meeting or serve on the Committee.

FURTHER PROGRESS IN PALESTINE.

ARAB RAID ON HEDJAZ RAILWAY.

(Reuter's Telegram.)
LONDON, June 10.
Recd. 1-15 p.m. June 11.

A Palestine Hedjaz communiqué says we captured a portion of a trench system on a mile front in the coastal sector on the 8th and the counter-attacks were repulsed, and the new line consolidated.

The Arabs raided rialways 105 miles northwards of Medina and destroyed a train, culverts, track and telegram line.

COTTON IN QUEENSLAND.

FIVE TIMES THE USUAL CROP.

(Reuter's Telegram.)
MELBOURNE, June 10.

"MEDICAL CERTIFICATE" NOT TO BE PUBLISHED.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

MADRAS, June 10.

The Madras Government will immediately issue a Communique regarding the circumstances in which a passport was issued to Dr. T. M. Nair. Government point out that the passport was issued in the ordinary course last March and in accordance with the orders then in force. Government were also perfectly satisfied with the medical certificate produced by Dr. Nair and lastly Government decline to publish the medical certificate.

GERMANY'S SENSE OF HONOUR.

MR. LANSING ON A "SOLEMN" PROMISE

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

NEW YORK, June 10, 11-20 p.m.
Recd. 7-45 p.m., June 11.

Mr. Lansing, in an address to the Union College, stated that the archives of the State department disclosed that six weeks after Germany, as the result of submarining the hospital ship Sussex, gave the United States a solemn promise to cease ruthless submarine slaughter, von Bernstorff appreciating the worthlessness of the promise asked the Berlin Foreign Office to advise him in ample time before the campaign recommenced, in order that he might notify the German Merchant ships in American harbours to destroy the machinery, because he anticipated that the renewal of ruthlessness would probably bring the United States into the war. "What a comment," Mr. Lansing said, "on von Bernstorff's estimate of the sense of honour and good faith of his Government." Mr. Lansing said the war must be won completely; the task must not be left half done; we must not transmit to posterity the legacy of blood and misery.

CRIME OF "KONINGIN REGENTES."

HOLLAND DEMANDS REPARATION.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

AMSTERDAM, June, 10, 9-10 p.m.
Recd. 11 p.m., June 11.

The "Handelsblad" says: There can be no further question of transporting wounded or prisoners in Dutch ships or even over Dutch territory until the crime against the Koningin Regentes is cleared up and, if it is proved that a German submarine was responsible, until complete satisfaction is given by the public punishment of the guilty, compensation for all damage and the immediate replacement of the ship by one of at least equal value.

Mr. Macpherson replied: Eight have been killed, one has died of wounds and ten have been injured.

EXCHANGE OF PRISONERS IN TURKEY AND BELGIUM.

"THE TIMES" ON NEED OF ADVICE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

Recd. 3-45 p.m. June 11.

"The Times" suggests that the Government should seek the advice of men acquainted with Turkey and Bulgaria with a view to opening immediately direct negotiations with these countries for the exchange of prisoners. It also suggests that such men might be appointed as delegates for negotiations.

BRITISH OCCUPATION OF BAGHDAD.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

NAINITAL, June 11.

In the course of a speech delivered by the General Officer Commanding, Mesopotamia Expeditionary Force, on the occasion of a public gathering held at Baghdad in aid of the Red Cross on Empire Day, the following remarks occur:—

On the occupation of Baghdad, my distinguished predecessor announced in the King's name that it was our intention to establish institutions under which the people of the country might develop and prosper along their own lines and invited you to participate in the management of your civil affairs. A year has now passed and we have advanced far beyond Baghdad and though the end of the war is not in sight I think it may be fairly claimed that the ideals set forth in that proclamation, are being fulfilled wherever we are in occupation, thanks in no small degree to the ready help which the military administration has received from the inhabitants of the land. The method by which this has been attained are in earnest of our intentions and a happy omen for the future.

THE BATTLE ON FRENCH FRONT.

detached masses of rising ground lying across the head of the Oise valley containing a great road and the railway to Paris. The line is vital and in defending it the Allies are defending the very heart of France. There is little space to retreat and the French and the British armies have to bear the weight of the battle, but both are still unbroken and every confidence felt in Marshal Foch to deliver a counter-blow and perhaps as a French writer says, make Paris a gigantic Verdun and the tomb of the German army. In any case, it is expected that the fighting will be protracted for the battle may be extended north or south by other desperate German attacks.

BATTLE RAGES WITH UNABATED FURY.

ENEMY PAYING FULL PRICE FOR EVERY STEP.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, June 10, 10-25 p.m.
Recd. 5-30 p.m., June 11.

Reuter's correspondent at French Headquarters wiring this afternoon says:—Throughout the night and morning, the the battle raged along the new front of attack with unabated fury. On the wings, the enemy is still held on practically the same line in spite of persistent reckless attempts to push on.

On the extreme right Plemont, although almost in the first line, is still holding out, the French garrison having beaten off successive waves of German infantry. Montrenaud is still ours.

In the centre of the battlefield the enemy by pouring in the fresh battalions has penetrated more deeply into our line and fighting is of the bloodiest character. The French and the Germans are fighting hand to hand over the ruins of every hamlet and farm. The enemy's loss has been extraordinarily heavy.

NO ELEMENT OF SURPRISE THIS TIME.

This time there was no element of surprise and the enemy's dense masses have been exposed to the fire of our machine-guns and artillery for the past thirty-six hours. The Germans had to assemble behind the lines under our counter-preparation fire, which had been sweeping the German rear for three days before the battle.

The enemy has eighteen or twenty divisions in the attacking line, the divisional front being two thousand yards. Behind the line his reserves are ready to replace the shattered divisions. A prolonged desperate struggle must be anticipated and there is also the possibility of meeting the shock of Hindenburg's disposable reserves before the enemy breaks off the battle.

ENEMY'S OBJECTIVE.

The enemy instead of sweeping on victoriously, as in the first days of the Aisne battle, is advancing painfully, yard by yard, and paying full price for every step of advance. The main effort is still in the centre towards the Oise with the object of turning the salient which we hold in his line with the apex at Pontlevequ on the Oise, comprising Carlepont and Ourscamp forest in the angle of the bend of the river.

IMPERIAL WAR CABINET AND CONFERENCE.

TO OPEN ON 11TH AND 12TH RESPECTIVELY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, 2-15 a. m., June 11.
Recd. 4-45 p.m., June 11.

The first meeting of the Imperial War Cabinet will be held on the 11th June and the first meeting of the Imperial War Conference on the 12th. Thereafter they will meet on alternate days.

Mr. Lloyd-George will preside over the former and Mr. Walter Long over the latter. The War Cabinet will have full powers to discuss and decide upon matters concerning the war, while the Conference will be larkely concerned with the later problems arising out of the war. Several over-seas Ministers visited Messrs. Lloyd-George, Bonar Law and Walter Long yesterday.

IRISH HOME RULE AND CONSCRIPTION.

TO BE SIDETRACKED.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, June 11, 6-40 a.m.
Recd. 11 p.m., June 11.

The "Daily Chronicle" says: It is now improbable that the Irish question as suggested by General Smuts will be submitted to the Imperial Conference. The signs are that both Home Rule and Irish conscription will be sidetracked.

Sir George Reid in a letter to the "Morning Post" opines that the submission of the Irish question to the Conference would go far to destroy the most valuable safeguard of Imperial unity and harmony.

That is the only conceivable basis for the future peace of the world. Peace can only come by trust. As long as there is suspicion there is going to be misunderstanding, there is going to be trouble. Mr. Baker addressing the delegation of the French Alpini said that over seven hundred thousand American soldiers had been sent to France.

ANGLO-FRENCH AERIAL ACTIVITIES.

HAVOC ON ENEMY LINES OF COMMUNICATIONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 10.
Recd. 8 a.m. June 11.

The "Echo de Paris," referring to Anglo-French aerial activities in destroying the enemy's lines of communications, says a single attack the other day caused a hundred trucks of shells and numerous ammunition dumps to explode at the station of Longuyon.

A single German chasing squadron lost in one night 60 airmen and practically all its machines. Cantonments full of troops received as much as twenty tons of explosives in two hours.

The paper adds that Marshal Foch is not forgetting Karlsruhe and Mannheim, but he is at present busier elsewhere.

FOURTEEN ENEMY AEROPLANES FELLED

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON 10-45 p.m. June 10.
Recd. 1-15 p.m. June 11.

A British communiqué regarding aviation says our air squadrons co-operating with the French worked on the Noyon-Montdidier front yesterday continually from dawn to dusk. Our bombing aeroplanes impeded the enemy advance and harassed the troops and transport with constant machinegunning. Strong patrols of scout machines swept the battle area throughout the day while the high-fliers were protecting them. Targets hit included the aerodrome near Roye where the hostile aeroplanes were set fire on the ground, the ammunition dump at Montdidier which went up in a sheet of flame, teams of waggons at Conchy, lorries at Lagny and Hainvillers and the infantry in trenches and on roads along behind the whole fighting line. On the British front one of our artillery aeroplanes forced a German two-seater of land and surrender. Our aeroplanes brought down fourteen others and drove down four out of control. Four British machines are missing.

GERMAN POST RAIDED N. E. OF BETHUNE.

ATTACK REPULSED IN EVELUY WOOD.

SIR WILLIAM BABTIE'S APPOINTMENT.

"BETRAYAL OF INTERESTS OF THE NATION."

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 7, 1-35 p.m.
Recd. 3-45 p.m. June 11.

In connection with the recent announcement of the appointment of Sir William Babtie as the Medical Adviser to the Adjutant-General, the "Daily Chronicle" recalls the Mesopotamia Commission's censure of Sir William Babtie and declares that such leniency towards war-failure is nothing short of betrayal of the interests of the nation. It hopes that Lord Milner will review the appointment, but if not Parliament should.

AMERICAN COMMUNICATIONS IN FRANCE.

A STUPENDONS ACHIEVEMENT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 11, 7-50 a.m.
Recd. 11 p.m., June 11.

The "Times" correspondent in an authorized description of the work of the Americans in France during the past eleven months says they are rapidly completing the longest and greatest scheme of communications ever used in warfare. "After a fortnight of solid travel I am convinced that what Americans have accomplished will rank in history as one of the greatest achievements of the war. For instance out of the waste lands adjacent to the old French port they have constructed a splendid line of model docks where ships are now daily discharging men, war material, cars and machinery. The huge new warehouse system at this point is nearing completion in addition to motor parks, cold storage plants and railway yards with tracks aggregating two hundred miles. In car assembly shops steel cars are being assembled at the rate of a complete train daily.

Work is rapidly proceeding on the new twenty thousand bed hospital, the largest yet constructed.

There are also an immense artillery camp and remount camp where I saw several thousand horses. These port schemes have been so worked out that they are capable of almost unlimited expansion which will be most important in pooling Allied efforts, for the American base ports may easily become the main reserve centres for distributing to rail heads everywhere on front. Conditions were the same along hundreds of miles of American communications that I visited."

GERMAN OVERSEAS POSSESSIONS

NOT TO BE RETURNED.

(REUTER'S SPECIAL WAR SERVICE.)

LONDON, June 11, 6-45 a.m.
Recd. 11 p.m., June 11.

The Council of the Colonial Institute has resolved in view of the coming Imperial Conference to express in the strongest terms their view, which, they believe, is shared throughout the Empire, that none of the former German possessions overseas should be restored to Germany.

BOYCOTTING GERMAN TRADE AFTER WAR.

FRENCH SAILORS' UNION DETERMINED

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

PARIS, June 10.
Recd. 8 a.m., June 11.

PARIS.—In reply to an appeal by Mr. Havelock Wilson, the secretary of the French Sailors' Union pledges that the personnel of the French mercantile marine, numbering two hundred thousand, will follow the lead of the British colleagues in boycotting German ships and trade after the war.

THE MAN FROM GERMAN SUBMARINE.

A LANCE CORPORAL OF CONNAUGHT RANGERS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 10.
Recd. 12-30 p.m. June 11.

In the House of Commons, Ronald Mc Neill asked for information regarding the prisoner now in the Tower of London who came ashore from a German submarine on the west coast of Ireland.

Mr. Macpherson replied that the accused and been identified as Lance-Corporal J. Dowling of the Connaught Rangers. He would be court-martialled and charged with aiding the enemy. Presumably he was a prisoner of war.

GERMAN RAIDS ON HOSPITALS.

TOTAL CASUALTIES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 10, 10-30 p.m.
Recd. 3-45 p.m. June 11.

In the House of Commons Mr. Joyson Hicks asked: How often during the past three weeks have the Germans bombed British hospitals on the north coast of France and what are the casualties?

Mr. Macpherson replied: Field-Marshal Haig recently reported that between the 15th May and the 1st June hospitals had been attacked on seven occasions. The total casualties in these raids were 11 officers, 318 men, five sisters, eight Womens' Army Auxiliary Corps and six civilians killed; and 18 officers. 534 men, 11 sisters, seven Womens' Army Auxiliary Corps, and 73 civilians wounded.

OPERATIONS IN PORTUGUESE EAST AFRICA.

ENEMY COLUMNS CROSS THE LURIO.

LONDON, June 10.
Recd. 1-15 p.m. June 11.

A Portuguese East African communiqué says two enemy columns crossed the Lurio river on the 27th and 28th May and three companies on the 29th attacked a post at Malema defended by a small detachment of Portuguese and British, who were obliged to retire on June 1st owing to the exhaustion of ammunition.

U. S. SHIP BUILDING PROGRAMME.

FOURTEEN MILLION TONNAGE EXPECTED BY 1920.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

NEW YORK, June. 11.
Recd. 7-45 p.m., June 11.

Mr. Hurley, Chairman of the Shipping Board, speaking at Indiana, declared that by 1920 American shipbuilding would aggregate 2101 vessels of over fourteen million deadweight tonnage. Five billion dollars would be required to carry out the present programme. He estimated that in 1919 the United States should turn out over thirteen million tons of shipping in one year. He hoped in 1920 to establish a weekly passenger service from New York to both coasts of South America, also to meet the trade requirements of Russia and China.

POOLING OF U. S. RESOURCES.

PLAN TO BE SUBMITTED TO PRESIDENT WILSON.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

WASHINGTON. June 11. 5-0 a.m.
Recd. 7-45 p.m., June 11.

A plan for pooling all the resources of the United States and co-belligerents into one vast economic and war machine will soon be submitted to President Wilson. It is now in the hands of Mr. Baruch, Chairman of the War Industries Board, who has been conferring with the Cabinet Ministers and the Allied representatives. It is understood that the plan urges greater co-ordination of industrial effort and Allied financial requirements, also elimination of the duplication of the manufacturing effort.

A POLICE SUB-INSPECTOR'S SUICIDE.

CLAIMS FOR PROMOTION OVERLOOKED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

TINNEVELLY, June 10.

Acting Sub-Inspector B. Perumal Raju in charge of Kalked Police Station committed suicide by stabbing himself with a butcher's knife at the Palamcottah market on Saturday afternoon. For some time past he was aggrieved that his claims for promotion as Sub-Inspector were invariably overlooked and the disappointment brought acute melancholia, from which he had suffered for the past two months. Coming to Pallancottah, where his family lived, on Saturday he went to the meat market and snatching a knife from the hands of a butcher sat on a stool and stabbed himself to the heart and in the abdomen inflicting injuries which proved fatal in a short time.

BENGAL'S POLITICAL DETENUS.

APPOINTMENT OF A COMMITTEE OF INVESTIGATION.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, June 10.

It has been arranged that the cases of persons in Bengal detained under the Defence of India Act, will be examined by a Committee consisting of Justice Beachcroft of the Calcutta High Court and Sir Narayan Ganesh Chandavarkar, late Judge, Bombay High Court.

TRIAL OF BENGAL DETENUS.

ALLEGED INFRINGEMENT OF REGULATIONS.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, June 11.

The Special Commissioners at Chittagong yesterday commenced the hearing of the case in which seventeen detenus at Kutubdia Island are accused. Before the trial commenced Mr. C. R. Das, who is defending the accused, opened the case and took some preliminary objections, after which the Public Prosecutor opened the case. The charge against them was that they left their place of detention without permission on 10th May last and were arrested at Chittagong, the same evening.

The defence was that they came to Chittagong to place, their grievances before the magistrate and this they did after informing the police officer in charge.

An inspector of the Intelligence Branch was examined, after which the court rose

BENGAL'S POLITICAL DETENUS.

"PATRIKA" ON THE SHAM OF OFFICIAL INVESTIGATION.

(From our Correspondent.)

CALCUTTA, June 11.

Referring to the appointment of a Committee to consider the cases of Bengal detenus, the "Amrita Patrika" says:—Even if two angles were put there with the conditions impose on them they would not be able to get at the real truth. The Committee will have no power to summon witnesses or cross-examine them to test the validity of the police information or at evidence collected by the police. We cannot congratulate the two Judges on their appointment. Even the best judges will go astray when faced with untested statements. We are at a loss to understand how could they invite such an enviable situation for themselves with this fact before them. They should have insisted on those legitimate means by which alone evidence can be shifted, and without which no one, however judicially trained, can come to a reliable conclusion.

"CUSTOMARY WAYS."

AN ASSISTANT COLLECTOR AND A VILLAGE PATEL.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—Mr. H. L. Fox, I.C.S., acted as the Collector of Broach for some time and is now serving as Assistant Collector of Dholka Prant in the Ahmedabad District. His usual office hours either at headquarters or in the district are between sunset and midnight, and the inconvenience arising from such a performance to parties, pleaders and persons concerned can better be imagined than described. People attending his court often miss their evening meals. Many of them get no conveyance owing to late hours, and find no accommodation for rest.

Once in April last when he was put to some personal inconveniences as the Patel of the village could not supply a sufficient number of carts for the removal of his camp, he changed his usual office hours and undertook an inquiry against the Patel during daytime. It became apparent then that his Honour could not keep a judicial frame of mind during daytime. The following is the copy of the order passed by his Honour against the Patel on that day.

Order passed by the Assistant Collector, Dholka Prant, in the matter of the Mukhi of Gamdi.

Bholabhai Desaibhai is asked why only one cart was supplied from his village for the Assistant Collector's camp to move. He states:—

"I had given intimation to 6 persons to send carts; one man had cart in good order and came. The 5 were Gula Gokal, Asha Desai, Soma Gopal, Mulji Nathu, Dawal Kanchhod and Naran Becharbhai. When peon came to call for carts one man started, the others took bullocks only as their carts were not in order, and they could not borrow any. Dawal has had no cart for two or three years, Soma Gopal has had no cart for seven years. Mulji Natha and Naran Bechar refused to give carts absolutely. They refused at the last moment and I had no time to inform other cart owners who were living in hute. They gave no reason.

I get Rs. 54 cash and land of Rs. 32 (judi Rs. 2) for being Patel. I am sole representative Matadar and have served for six years. I write the names of all bullocks and cart owners, and put in bag and take out as many as there are carts required. Last night I took out six chits, I was asked only for four carts, but added two in case some were broken."

(Sd.) H. L. FOX,
Assistant Collector.

8th April, 1918.

ORDER.

Bholabhai Desaibhai is sole representative Matadar of Gamri, a large village of 1,300 or so people. He has been Patel for five or six years. He appears to have been infected with various pernicious doctrines which have been afloat of late; and to have lost sight of the fact that he is a paid Government servant bound to exert himself in certain customary ways and to render such service as may be called for by Government. Thus he appears to be very lukewarm in the matter of recruiting, advancing the frivolous argument that the deprivation of the Arms by the Arms Act has rendered his people incapable of enlisting even in a Labour Corps. He does not appear to be at all the man for the place.

It appears from the statements by him and one of the Matadars that a meeting under the auspices of the Home Rule League was recently held at Jetalpur and attended by some of the Gamri people. It appears likely that they imbibed there the doctrine that a stand should be made against rendering the customary service of supplying transport to touring officers. Accordingly, when the Assistant Collector's camp (pitched 150 yards from Gamri) was to move on the 7th April, the Patel tried to meet both parties by supplying only one cart and three spare pairs of bullocks. His village possesses 36 carts and was the nearest to the Assistant Collector's camp.

After the other kit had left, one cart load was left for the morning, but up to 9 a.m. on the 8th instant no cart had appeared on the scene. A cart was only finally secured (at 1 p.m. from Deredi) by the personal effort of the Assistant Collector; whose whole day almost was wasted by the necessary enquiry into the matter. The Patel is the man whom Government officers must look to for assistance, and obstruction of this sort must be punished. Bholabhai Desaibhai is hereby suspended for six months.

(Sd.) H. L. FOX,
Assistant Collector.
Dholka Prant.

Camp Dhamatwar, 8th April, 1918.

The temperature of Ahmedabad in the first week of April is fairly tolerable for an average civilian. But Mr. Fox requires exceptionally cool surroundings for judicial work at least, and the people in his division have to put up with the inconvenience and annoyance due to late hours if they do not want to disturb his balance of mind.

His Honour says in the order that the Patel "is bound to exert himself in certain customary ways and to render such services as may be called for from him," but the Home Rulers say that the days of the pernicious doctrines of resorting to customary ways (and not legal ways) at the cost of the poor are no more. Any usage however long cannot legalise a wrong. There is no place for prescription in Criminal Law. And Mr. Fox may do well to look at section 374 of the Indian Penal Code before he can claim customary services from poor villagers.

Mr. Fox may better get himself transferred to Sind where people still indulge in costly commissions for remedying such wrongs if he wants to be comfortable by customary services, but Gujerat is wide-awake and he need not be wild with himself and waste a whole day after such fruitless inquiries in future.

CALCUTTA, June 10.

At the High Court to-day before Justice Greaves, a suit brought by Evelyn Dick, a girl of ten years of age, against J. C. Galstaun, claiming damages of Rs. 10,000 was settled. The facts out of which the claim arose were that on 11th December last while the plaintiff girl was returning from school along Circular Road, a leopard belonging to the defendant, which was being taken along this road by its keeper, mauled the girl causing several wounds. A settlement was arrived at between the parties, and the Judge passed a consent decree for Rs. 2,000 and costs.

KAIRA STRUGGLE.

A NEW PHASE.

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Satyagraha Camp,
NADIAD, June 9.

Mahatma Gandhiji had been to Kaira on the 8th instant, in the noon, where a case was to be heard before the Collector as District Maistrate, in which Mr. Mohanlal Rameshwar Pandya, one of the initiators of this movement, and five others from Nawagam were charged with the theft of onions from a field for which notice of forfeiture was issued (so the Government maintain, though in reality the particular survey number was not mentioned in the notice expressly). The accused boldly asserted that they honestly believed that there was nothing illegal in their action. Gandhiji too, said in his evidence that the sole responsibility for the action lay with him as it was he who had advised the accused to remove the onions. In spite of all this, the Collector sentenced four of the accused to twenty days' simple imprisonment and the remaining two to ten days. After the case was over, Mahatmaji addressed a large gathering of the people outside the compound of the Court. He spoke to the following effect:—

The Pilgrimage to Jail.

Two feelings are uppermost in my heart just now: one of them fills me with gladness, the other with pain. I am pained with the thought that I have not yet full confidence in the Kaira people, and as I am not yet sure that they are not afraid of going to gaol. In spite of this the experience that the people have got is indeed splendid. So long as we do not learn how to endure jail sufferings and do not perceive the true meaning and lesson of jail pilgrimage we do not understand the real meaning of Satyagraha. This is the fittest opportunity for all to learn that this is the occasion when we ought feel that we are not so fortunate as our brothers who had the good fortune to go to jail. I tried my utmost to go to jail. I said that the responsibility from the beginning to the end was solely mine. Bhulabhai has acted after full consideration. If there is any mistake it is mine, and yet I do not feel I am at all in the wrong. I got the case transferred to the Collector with great effort. I had previously informed the Collector that I was not going to appeal from his judgment; and even now that is my resolve. I do not repent of this. The judgment and the sentence are not proper; the sentence is severe. There can be no imprisonment for such a theft of onions. The condition cannot stand in an appeal for a moment. We have lost the case not because Vallabbhai or myself did not cross-examine any witnesses. Any impartial judge with legal knowledge could say that the facts did not constitute any offence. In spite of that we are not going to appeal. A Satyagrahi cannot do that. For him the best way is to go to jail. I would have been more glad if the sentence was even more severe. The Collector has ordered the onion to be confiscated. If the Government can dare pocket the onions, let them do so. But what I want to tell the Nawagam friends is that the revenue arrears of Bhulabhai must be paid up to the mamlatdar by to-morrow. We have to respect the settlement. I am going to say the same to the people of the district assembled in the meeting at Nadiad to-day. This incident may possibly create bitterness, but we must guard against it. The Collector has acted in anger and not with ill-will. There was no other strong reason for the sentence. If he had quietly thought over the case and studied the law a little more carefully, he would have seen that there was no offence in the act. If we mean to suffer punishment, we must do so again and again; and then they would understand that there cannot be any punishment for such a heroic people. Those who are going to the jail are pure hearted. They never intended to commit any offence or be disobedient: we shall never bow down to blind authority, and, if necessary, we will remove onions and go to jail a thousand times. My brothers of Nawagam, consider this opportunity to be a blessed one. Our brothers have gone to jail with a pure and bold heart; and for that we shall all congratulate them. As Mohanlal is with them I have no anxiety for the rest five.

No Question of Appeal.

I do not believe in appeals. In South Africa when thousands went to jail, I never appealed. There can be no appeal when we wish to go to jail and perform the penance. Perhaps, the Kaira people, have not risen so high. But if they have, I would advise them not to offer any defence and to allow the Court to do anything it pleases. There are two other cases pending. Do not defend yourself therein and suffer the imprisonment. There is so much to be learnt in that; and it is my firm belief that by that only the country would be elevated.

ALLEGED THEFT OF RACE-HORSES.

ATTEMPT TO SCREW OUT MONEY.

(Before Justices Beaman and Heaton.)

ABDULLA NASSAR v. MR. R. S. CAPTAIN.

This was a criminal application for revision against the decision of Mr. P. E. Percival, Sessions Judge of Poona.

The applicant had filed a complaint before Mr. J. B. Vacha, City Magistrate of Poona, charging the opponent Mr. R. S. Captain with theft of his horses. The Magistrate held an enquiry in the matter and dismissed the complaint under section 203 of the Criminal Procedure Code, as it seemed to be absolutely false.

The facts are briefly these:—

The applicant Abdulla Nassar is a native of Najid in Arabia and his father Nassar was dealing in horses and precious stones. Mr. R. S. Captain is a solicitor of the Bombay High Court. The allegation against him was that when the complainant's father Nassar died, he went to Poona and stole away his horses by name Major, Welcome, Clever Boy, Best Friend and Ottawa. It was also alleged that Mr. Captain had got those horses transferred to his name at the Turf Club from that of the deceased Nassar.

Mr. Captain denied everything and said that he was the owner and Nassar was the trainer and put in six letters written to him by the deceased Nassar which showed that that was the case. He purchased the horses in Nassar's name as he did not like to give out his name.

MERELY A TRAINER, NOT OWNER.

The Magistrate in discussing the complaint under section 203, Criminal Procedure Code, observed:—The very suggestion seems absurd that a person well versed in law should come down from Bombay to Poona to commit such a theft. Mr. Captain is alleged to have got those horses transferred. Would a thief do so? Would he proceed to dispose of the stolen property in this fashion? Would he announce his theft to the world in this way? A thief would take care to keep secret to the best of his power and ability the proceeds of his theft. The very fact that Mr. Captain got the horses transferred to his name at once suffices to show that he was acting not like a thief, but one who was master of the animals concerned. On hearing the sub-inspector and seeing the papers of police inquiry I am almost inclined to think that his complaint is malafide and an attempt to screw out money from a respectable man under pressure of a criminal prosecution. What is the meaning of this complaint when on the very day Nassar died, every one said that he was a trainer and that Mr. Captain was the owner of the horses? Could the complainant be in darkness about this state of affairs. The complainant put in receipts which he found amongst his father's papers about the purchase of these horses passed in Nassar's name? Well, as far as these receipts go, one might be led to think that the horses belonged to his father, if he were in total darkness about the real state of affairs. Knowing that Nassar was merely the trainer and not the owner if one attempts to prove his title on the strength of these receipts in any court of justice, it will be a clear attempt to misguide the court and misuse the authority of a court of justice.

RACING USAGES.

Mr. Captain purchased the horses in Nassar's name as he did not like to give out his name. Any one acquainted with the ways of racing people will not find it difficult to understand why this was done. No one races in his own name. He has either a pseudonym or races through his trainer. One need only glance at the racing calendar to see whether any owner of horses races them in his own name. With the horses the complainant has charged the accused with theft of a dog and a parrot of the deceased. The accused says that as there was no one to look after them he took charge of them as requested by his neighbours. The explanation is quite satisfactory.

It was contended on behalf of the applicant that the order of the two courts were manifestly against the weight of evidence. The Magistrate ought not to have dismissed the complaint without hearing all the complainant's witnesses and duly placing on record all the documentary evidence in the possession of the petitioner. That even if the horses belonged to the opponent still the offence of theft had been committed by the opponent according to Criminal Ruling 36 of 1887. The motive imputed to the petitioner for bringing the prosecution was unjust and found no justification whatever in the circumstances of the case. The Magistrate's treatment of the documentary evidence in the case had been slipshod and he had failed to give it that consideration which on the face of it the evidence deserved. The Sessions Judge ought to have heard the pleader of the applicant and his failure to do so had resulted in a miscarriage of justice.

APPLICATION REJECTED.

Their Lordships after hearing counsel rejected the application.

Mr. Rustom D. N. Wadia with Mr. P. N. Godinho appeared for the applicant.

ORIGINAL SIDE.

A COMMISSION AGENT'S CLAIM

HIGH COURT'S JURISDICTION OVER SUBJECT OF NATIVE STATE.

Mulla Kurban Hassein Abdul Hassein ..... Plaintiff.

v.

Ismail Saheb Mohidinbhai Maner ... Defendant

(Before Justice Kajiji.)

This was a suit filed by the plaintiff to recover Rs. 3,870-10-9, being the amount alleged to be due to him on a commission agency account.

The plaintiff's case was that the defendant was a hardware and stationery merchant residing at Kolhapur. The plaintiff acted as his commission agent and used to consign goods to the defendant according to his instructions. The monies were to be payable by the defendant in Bombay. The plaintiff continued to act as the defendant's commission agent till October 1917, and the balance due on that account came to Rs. 3,870-10-9.

The defendant's brother-in-law put in an affidavit, in which he alleged that nothing was due by the defendant and further contended that as the defendant was a subject of the Kolhapur State and a permanent resident there, the High Court had no jurisdiction over him. The defendant did not own any property in British India, nor did he owe any allegiance to the British Government. The transactions in dispute extended over a period of seven years, during which time the defendant had never put his foot in British India and the Courts here had, therefore, no jurisdiction in the matter. The defendant had also filed a suit in the Kolhapur State against the plaintiff for Rs. 10,108-1-3 alleged to be the balance due by the plaintiff on account.

The Hon. Mr. T. J. Strangman appeared for the plaintiff.

Mr. G. M. Gupte appeared for the defendant under protest, and contended that the British Courts had no jurisdiction over foreigners, who, at the time of the filing of the suit, did not reside in British India and who owed no allegiance to the British Government. He contended that all jurisdiction was properly territorial, and that it did not extend to persons who, were at the time of the filing of the suit, were residents in a foreign State and who owed allegiance to a foreign Government. Counsel cited 22 Cal. 222 and 18 Bom. L. R. 486, in support of his contention.

The Hon. Mr. T. J. Strangman submitted that the High Courts in India were by the Letters Patent given jurisdiction in certain cases to try cases against the persons not residents within the local limits of the High Court, one of which was, where a part of the cause of action arose within its limits. When such express legislation existed the decree of such a Court could not be regarded as a mere nullity. In the present case the monies were to be paid in Bombay and as a part of the cause of action arose in Bombay and leave of the Court had been obtained., the High Court had jurisdiction to try the suit.

His Lordship held that the High Courts in India were given jurisdiction to try all suits in which a part of the cause of action arose within their local limits, after obtaining leave under the Letters Patent. That had been done and the only question was whether a part of the cause of action had arisen here. A part of the cause of action no doubt meant a material part of the cause of action. But it had been decided in many cases that payment of money due was a material part of the cause of action. The payment in the present case was to be made in Bombay and therefore, with leave, the High Court had jurisdiction to try this suit.

Mr. Gupte, thereupon, withdrew his appearance and his Lordship after hearing the plaintiff passed a decree for the amount with interest and costs against the defendant.

JUDGE BY RESULTS

Read the remarkable testimonials from both medical men and the general public and see what Erectruss has done for those suffering from Functional Weakness, Exhaustion and Debility even after other remedies had failed. Erectruss is the outcome of years of study and research and Dr. Bier's Principle of "Obstructive Hyperaemia," on which it is based, is one of the wonders of medical science.

The Erectruss is a "specialist" itself in all but cost: always handy, a sure and natural cure for these diseases, yet the total cost of an Erectruss is only Rs. 15 (plus postage, etc.), a low price indeed for such a miracle-worker. Before you forget, just sit down and write for the Free Descriptive Booklet—it may mean New Life to you. Address to ERECTRUSS (B. C.) Sole Agency BATALA (India.)
